

ENFJ

Your life's motto: “The public relations specialist”

Loves to help others understand their personal issues and then overcome obstacles. Masterful communicators with great tact & diplomacy. Good writers-likes gathering info. by meeting people or interviewing them. Quick to establish relationships. Enjoys facilitating large and small groups.

Your life's challenges:

Slow down

Relinquish control

Take things less personally

You are especially satisfied with work that:

Lets you establish and maintain warm and supportive interpersonal relationships with co-workers, clients, customers, etc.

Lets you develop creative solutions to problems you believe in and see the results of your efforts for other people

Is done in an environment with clear expectations that encourages professional growth and development

Lets you be a part of a busy, productive team of other creative people

Allows you to share your solutions with other supportive and caring people

Is done in an active and challenging environment that allows you to juggle several projects at once

Lets you use your organizational and decision-making skills and have control over your own projects

Gives you a variety of activities but allows you to work in an orderly manner

Is done in an environment free from interpersonal conflicts and tension

Exposes you to new ideas and lets you explore new approaches that will improve the lives of other people

Some careers you may find particularly satisfying; this is not a full list of careers, just some possibilities.
